DHORN AND ECHTZ CAPTURED BY FIRST ARMY IN ADVANCE THROUGH FRESH SNOW FALL

Lt. Gen. Patton's Third Unit Beats Down Counterattacks In Steel City of Dillingen and Near Aarlaufen

FIGHTING INSIDE THE SIEGFRIED LINE IS SLOW

By EDWARD KENNEDY

Paris, Dec. 11.—(P)—First Army infantry and tanks advanced a mile and a quarter today in fresh snowfall, driving the weakening but still determined Germans from the Roer valley towns of Dhorn and Echztz, the latter 2½ miles northwest of the ruins of Duren.

The main force of Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' drive was along a 10-mile front, more than six inches deep in snow, in the area west, northwest and southwest of Duren, a Roer river stronghold of 39,000 just 20 miles over open country from Cologne.

To the south, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army beat down counterattacks in the steel city of Dillingen and near Saarlautern and fought the severest kinds of battles from house to house in Sarreguemines, Roden and Fraulautern. The Third Army was fighting inside the Siegfried line at Dillingen and beyond Saarlautern and progress necessarily was slow.

On Patton's right, the Seventh Army was at grips with the Germans on the east side of the big French abse of Haguenau, into which the 79th Infantry division forced its way yesterday. Heavy fighting raged at several places in the Haguenau area, including the streets of Reichshoffen, a mile south of Niederbronn.

The First Army opened a new pre-dawn attack at 4:30 a. m. from the vicinity of Lucherbach and covered 2,000 yards, reaching the outskirts of Merken, very close to the flooded Roer and three and a half miles northwest of Duren.

Contrary to reports late yesterday that Gey, four miles southwest of Duren, had been cleaned out, the Americans still were fighting for each house in that village.

Below Gey, the Germans in the first light today launched a counterattack against Americans holding Strass. Front reports said the doughfeet were holding the thrust.

The 35th and 26th Infantry Divisions of the Third Army extended their lines in the center of the western front east of Sarreguemines, squeezing the Germans from some of the last bits of France in that sector.

No further progress was reported either toward the Saarland capital of Saarbrücken, three miles or so from U. S. troops, or inside the nearby French rail center of Forbach. A front dispatch said the (Turn to Page Nine)

1,600 Heavies Pounding Reich

London, Dec. 11.—(P)—Sixteen hundred American heavy bombers and 800 fighters—the greatest fleet of four-engine craft ever mounted in aerial warfare—raided western Germany's centers today with 6,000 tons of explosive.

The Fortress and Liberator fleet from the British-based U. S. Eighth Airforce was part of a co-ordinated operation that shook the Reich with heavy bombers from all three airforces in the European theatre.

British Lancasters and Mosquitos led three German cities in the Ruhr before noon. Rail yards and a fuel plant at Osterfeld and refineries at Meiderich and Bruckhausen were the targets.

Berlin radio reported bombers from the U. S. Fifteenth Airforce over Austria and headed toward southern Germany—the third raid from Italy in three days.

Temperatures ranged down to 50 degrees below zero.

No enemy fighter opposition was encountered and anti-aircraft fire was described as meager. Three bombers and one fighter were listed as missing.

Reich Gathers Forces Hoping To Turn Tide of War in 1945

By E. V. W. JONES

London, Dec. 11.—(P)—Reports reaching London from many sources indicate that Germany is gathering her forces—including two new V-weapons and a new type of submarine—for a 1945 counter-offensive which she hopes may turn the tide of the war.

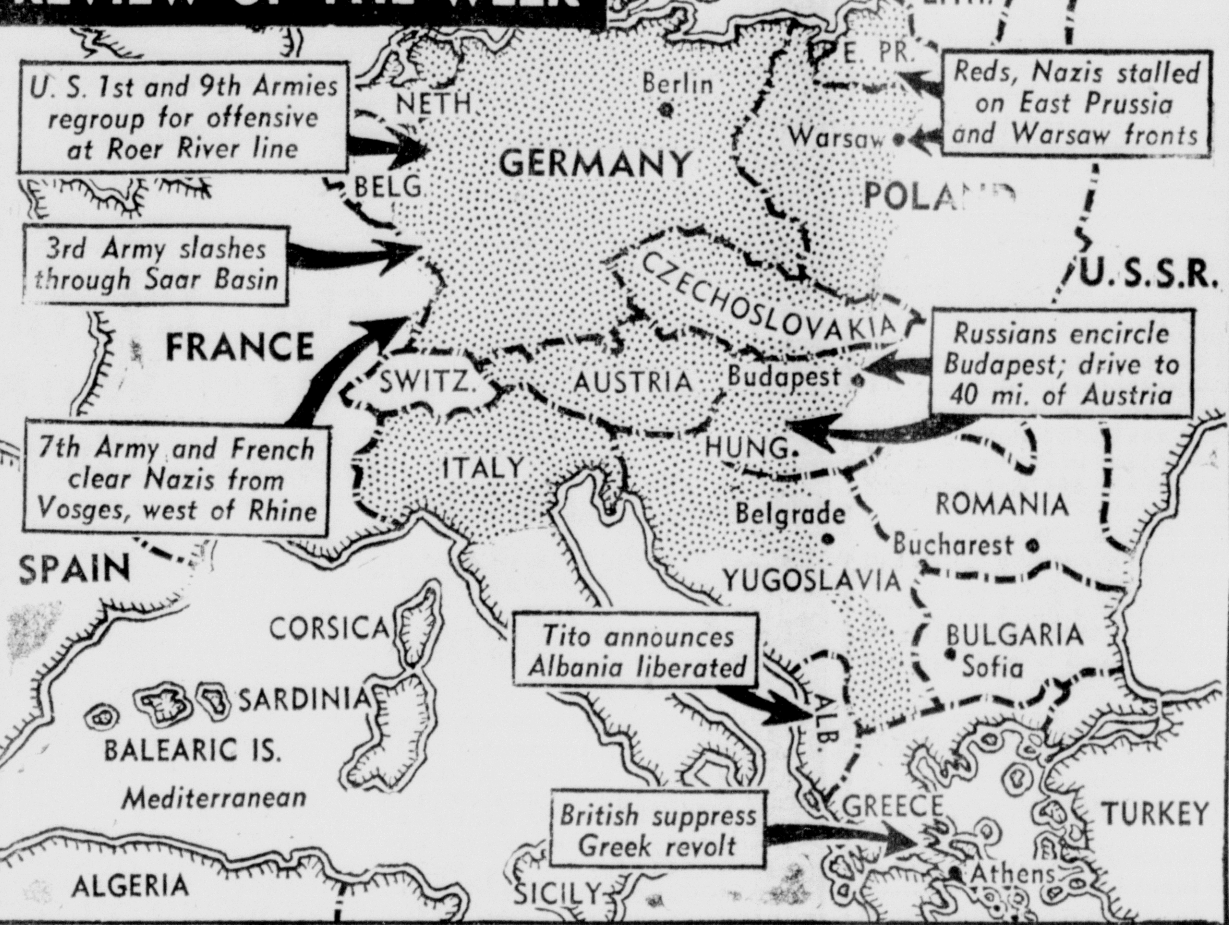

Two enemy V-weapons—the flying bomb and the rocket bomb—already are in use against southern England and continental points. Nazi Production Chief Albert Speer was quoted as saying recently that "V-3" would be ready for use against New York before the new year and there is talk in Germany of "V-4," but no hint as to its nature.

Meanwhile it is a matter of official knowledge that the Germans have developed a submarine equipped with radical new devices for underwater breathing and it is possible that some of the craft may even now be at sea. Known as the Schnorkel spiral submarine, the new vessel has been dubbed the "snorts" by the British.

London newspapers have told their readers that swift hit-run raids by jet-propelled planes are possible, and that England can expect V-bomb attacks until the Nazis die in their last spasm of resistance.

Reports from neutral countries place Germany's fighter plane production at 1,500 craft a month despite the Allied aerial onslaught, and there is some talk of a Luftwaffe "comeback" based on jet aircraft.

Quadruplets Are Getting Along Fine

Philadelphia, Dec. 11.—(P)—The Cirinello quadruplets are now meeting the world on its own terms—within reason, of course.

Dr. Ralph M. Tyson, pediatrician at Lying-in Hospital, reported yesterday that the three girls and the boy, born Nov. 1, have been removed from their incubators and are now being kept in regular unheated bassinets.

They are gaining weight and "doing simply fine," he added. They will remain at the hospital until they all reach six pounds.

New Attacks Are Reported Over Tokyo

By the Associated Press
A series of Superfortress raids on Tokyo over the weekend were reported by the Japanese radio, which said that fires started by incendiary bombs "were immediately put out."

The newest attacks, said the broadcast, recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, were made by small formations of B-29s Sunday night and Monday morning (Japanese time). The claims made in a French-language overseas broadcast, were not confirmed by any Allied source.

Earlier the radio had said that two Marin-based Superfortresses had penetrated to metropolitan Tokyo at 8:30 p. m. Sunday (Japanese time), adding that heavy anti-aircraft fire drove the American super-bombers off.

Tokyo also reported that B-29s had raided western Japan at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, had appeared over Kyushu, southernmost of the Japanese home islands at 10:30 a. m. today and had raided two points in Korea from 11 a. m. until noon.

Not long ago the radio was boasting that there is nothing to fear from the Superfortress raids, but a night reconnaissance pilot reported finding the Japanese capital and other important cities strictly blacked out now.

During earlier raids Tokyo was brilliantly lighted.

"MAISIE HAS BABY"
Hollywood, Dec. 11.—(P)—Now it's "Maisie has a baby." Ann Sothern, "Maisie" of the film series, yesterday presented her husband, Army Lt. Robert Sterling, former actor, with an 8-pound 2-ounce baby girl, Patricia Ann.

The pact, paralleling a 20-year alliance between Britain and Russia, was announced last night several hours after the French leader had boarded a special train en route to Baku, where a plane was waiting to carry him back to Paris.

While the text of the treaty was not immediately released, an official announcement said both governments had affirmed their intention to fight on together until "complete victory" over Germany is achieved. They also expressed their determination to take jointly all measures necessary to safeguard established principles of democracy and Americanism, to help veterans returning to civilian life.

Elmo W. Keel, Washington, D. C., was elected president in yesterday's final organization meeting.

A previous broadcast had listed six more Japanese admirals and a general.

Leaders of 78th Congress Driving to Clear Calendar

BULLETIN

Washington, Dec. 11.—(P)—Congress would like to end its 78th session this week, if possible, getting away early for the holidays. Finishing touches still are needed on the big postwar roads, flood control and rivers and harbors work programs and some other legislation. Both house and senate await White House action on their measure freezing social security taxes.

Washington, Dec. 11.—(P)—Leaders of the 78th congress began a drive today to clear the calendar of important bills and toss the rest into the ash can.

One of their anxieties centers on the social security payroll tax freeze bill already passed by both houses and sent to the White House. Should the president veto it, and many legislators believe he will, there will be an attempt to override, starting in the house.

A two-thirds majority of both houses is necessary to enact the bill over the president's disapproval, but both the senate and house rolled up bigger ratios than that in passing the measure. It would prevent an otherwise automatic doubling of the tax Jan. 1. The rate now is 1 per cent each on employers and employees.

Senate consideration of the half-billion dollar rivers and harbors authorization bill enters its third week with members still discussing a proposal to add a $421,000,000 navigation and power project on the St. Lawrence river.

Two other big bills authorizing postwar public works projects need perfecting work. One calls for spending $1,500,000,000 on roads in the first three postwar years. The other sets up $1,000,000,000 for flood control projects.

DeGaulle and Stalin Sign Alliance Pact

Moscow, Dec. 11.—(P)—France's relations with Soviet Russia were cemented today with a new treaty of alliance and mutual assistance negotiated by Gen. De Gaulle as the crowning achievement of his 16-day visit to Moscow.

The pact, paralleling a 20-year alliance between Britain and Russia, was announced last night several hours after the French leader had boarded a special train en route to Baku, where a plane was waiting to carry him back to Paris.

While the text of the treaty was not immediately released, an official announcement said both governments had affirmed their intention to fight on together until "complete victory" over Germany is achieved. AmVets Make Bid For Returning Servicemen
Kansas City, Dec. 11.—(P)—The AmVets—The American Veterans of World War II, as they are to be known officially—have organized and started to bid for returning servicemen.

Among the objectives: To safeguard established principles of democracy and Americanism, to help veterans returning to civilian life.

Elmo W. Keel, Washington, D. C., was elected president in yesterday's final organization meeting.

A previous broadcast had listed six more Japanese admirals and a general.

REGULATIONS TO TIGHTEN DRAFT RULES

Selective Service Notifies State Directors to Take Action to Enforce Byrnes Directive

MEASURES OUTLINED

Washington, Dec. 11.—(P)—Selective service today notified state draft directors that it will take "immediate action" to put into effect the Byrnes manpower directive.

In telegrams to state officers, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey said that draft regulations are being amended to provide that when occupationally deferred registrants leave essential jobs they will be "reclassified into A class immediately available for service."

The only exception, he said, will be in cases where local boards rule that a change of jobs by men 26 through 37 "is in the best interest of the war effort."

The new regulations outlining detailed procedure to be followed will be sent to local boards later this week, selective service said.

Manpower officials expressed confidence today that tighter draft regulations due this week will "go a long way" toward bolstering the war labor force.

The most important result of James E. Byrnes' directive to selective service, they said, will be to cut down appreciably the huge labor turn-over that has been a number one problem in fighting lagging war production.

Strife-Torn Athens Faces Food Shortage

Athens, Dec. 11.—(P)—Acute food shortages and the imminent danger of epidemics threatened this strife-torn capital today as British heavy bombers for the first time in the week-long civil struggle attacked Elia concentrations around the city.

RAF Wellingtons and cannon firing Spitfires joined the sanguinary fighting—already reported to have cost the Leftists 1,500 killed and 2,500 wounded—after an Elia attack supported by mortars and artillery had been repelled yesterday by British troops using tank and field guns.

Several shells fired from Elia positions fell near British headquarters on the eastern outskirts of the city. Sniper bullets struck the Grande Bretagne hotel, temporary seat of the Greek government on Constitution Square. One 75-millimeter shell struck British headquarters. The British replied with artillery and mortars.

Heavy rains curtailed action during the night but fires started by shellfire still were smoking today on the northern slopes of the Acropolis.

Unloading of relief ships at Piraeus, port of Athens, was at a standstill and U. N. R. R. A. attempted to organize soup kitchens to relieve the stricken civilian population so far had failed. Large numbers of dead were awaiting burial.

Strong forces of both sides were massed as efforts to mediate the crisis appeared to be meeting little success.

Meanwhile, a spokesman of the Eam, denying British Prime Minister Churchill's charges that the (Turn to Page Nine)

Blanket of Snow Covers Midwest

By the Associated Press
A blanket of snow, ranging in depth from three to 12 inches, covered the midwest today in the lower lakes region and the upper Mississippi valley, where the heavy fall so hampered driving that 14 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents.

Although it was still snowing in lower Michigan, the storm had abated in most of the area and only scattered flurries continued. Weather bureau predictions for today anticipated only light snow in some sections and temperatures from freezing to about 20 degrees.

With slush and snow freezing and ice covering city streets and highways, traffic conditions grew more hazardous. Meanwhile, airline schedules were cancelled in most parts of the area.

Butchers in Gotham Take Drastic Action

New York, Dec. 11.—(P)—A "business holiday", beginning Christmas day and continuing "until office of Price Administration regulations are adjusted," has been voted by an estimated 3,500 New York City meat dealers, who say they will close 10,000 butcher shops handling 80 per cent of the city's meat trade.

Fall of Strategic Seaport Is Heavy Blow to Enemy In the Philippine Islands

CORRIDOR NARROWING

By the Associated Press
General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Dec. 11.—Leyte island's strategic seaport of Ormoc was in American hands today—captured just four days after surprise landings to the south—and three columns of veteran Yanks put a nutcracker squeeze on thousands of Japanese trapped in a narrow pocket by the action.

Ormoc was seized in mid-afternoon Sunday by the American 77th Division, which launched the knockout attack in early morning from the town's outskirts after a quick drive from beachheads established Thursday under naval and air cover.

The American Seventh Division was less than a mile from Ormoc after making contact at Albuera on the west coast with a column which came west over the hills from Bureauan in Leyte valley, in the ever-narrowing corridor between these forces were thousands of Japanese racing a deadly squeeze play.

Associated Press Correspondent Dean Scherler, with the 77th Division, wrote that Gen. Andrew Bruce's veteran outfit found opposition surprisingly light upon securing a beachhead and, revising plans, immediately pushed toward Ormoc along the coastal roads, meeting only light pockets of resistance at first. Later strong dugouts and pillboxes had to be destroyed.

Capture of Ormoc represents a heavy blow to the Japanese. It was vital to the enemy as a reinforcement port for his troops in the Ormoc corridor running through mountain country from Ormoc to Carigara Bay on the north.

The Japanese still have a small port facing the Visayan Sea. This is Palompon, 15 miles northwest of Ormoc.

All Doping of the Associated Press said the Japanese appeared to be retreating from the Seventh Division, but were expected to make a desperate, final stand.

American fighter planes were active in combat over the fighting zone, and bombers scored effective hits on central Philippines shipping and airdromes.

The executive disclosed plans for the action during the weekend meeting of the Pennsylvania Society of New York. He declared the soldier vote revision "one of the most important pieces of legislation to be introduced at the next session."

Present law permits servicemen to vote only in the general election. The proposed amendment, it is expected, will change the date of the primary in odd-numbered years now held on the second Tuesday of September so enough time will be allowed soldiers overseas to cast absentee ballots.

Obituary

Unless otherwise stated, visiting hours at Warren funeral homes are from 10 a. m. to 12; 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m.

MRS. MARIE OSTERGARD

Mrs. Marie Ostergard, widow of Christian Ostergard, 419 Rankin street, died at 8:40 p. m. Sunday in Warren General Hospital, where she had been a patient since last Tuesday.

Mrs. Ostergard was born in Denmark June 12, 1862, and came to this country 54 years ago. With her husband and children, she came directly to Warren and had resided in the same house in Rankin street for over 50 years. She was a member of the First Lutheran church, the Dana Lodge and the Danish Sisterhood.

Surviving her are four sons, Christian and Peter, of Warren; Martin of Canton, O., and Arthur, of Erie. Her husband preceded her in death in 1900 and three sons, Samuel, Emory and Henry, have also preceded her. Besides her sons, she leaves 12 grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren.

Removal has been made to the Lutz Funeral Home, where, friends may call at any time and from where her pastor, Dr. H. A. Rhinard, will conduct services in her memory at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday. Interment will be made in Oakland cemetery.

MARTIN CHRISTENSEN

Funeral services in memory of Martin Christensen, 18 South Irvine street, were held at two o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Peterson Funeral Home, conducted by Dr. H. A. Rhinard, First Lutheran minister. Interment was made in Oakland cemetery with the following serving as bearers: F. Eckstrom, W. Anderson, J. Pedersen, S. Newgreen, E. Carlson, F. Kennedy.

Attending the rites from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. N. Christensen, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. F. Eckstrom, Jamestown, N. Y.

MRS. M. C. McELDOONEY

Marian Honhart McElldowney, wife of Malcolm C. McElldowney, of Corry died in the hospital in that city on Sunday, aged 42 years. She had been in failing health for some time but had only been taken to the hospital a few days ago. She was born in Warren July 30, 1902, but had lived in Corry for the past 20 years or more. She was a member of the Lutheran church. Besides her husband, she leaves six children: Betty, Fred, Laverne, Robert and Richard, at home, and Mrs. Elaine Spangler, Corry; two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Dora Wilcox, Mrs. Cene Dalrymple and Henry Honhart, all of Warren; also one grandson.

Services will be held from the Davidson Funeral Home, North Center street, Corry, at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, followed by interment in Pine Grove cemetery at that place. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

ARTHUR HAUBER

Arthur Hauber, of Erie, passed away at 8:20 p. m. Friday following an extended illness. Removal was made to the Leo D. Gibson Funeral Home and services were held at ten o'clock this morning from St. Joseph's church. Father Arthur Leon sang the requiem high mass. Interment was made in St. Joseph's cemetery with Regis Geitner, Jack Ertola, A. Giffre, Albert Hauber acting as bearers.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. K. Hauber; one brother, Albert, and four sisters, Miss Mary, Miss Hilda, Mrs. William Bonace, Mrs. Percy Wilson, all of Erie. His father, Engelbert Hauber, preceded him in death.

TO END IN RED

From all indications the borough when it closes its books on December 31 will be in the red to the tune of between $15,000 and $30,000. At the last meeting of the Town Council a resolution was passed by which the finance committee will transfer funds unexpectedly from various committees to others to keep the financial keel as steady as possible. The expenditures by which the borough will exceed its receipts have been due to extraordinary calls on various committees which could not be foreseen when the budget was planned; such as resurfacing the runway at the airport, extension of hours at playgrounds, etc.

Intoxicating Liquors Are Not Mailable

Postal authorities direct attention to the fact that intoxicating liquors are not mailable. The law is as follows:

"That all spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquors of any kind are hereby declared to be nonmailable and shall not be deposited in or carried through the mails. Whoever shall knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited for mailing or delivery, or shall knowingly cause to be delivered by mail, according to the direction thereon, or at any place at which it is directed to be delivered by the person to whom it is addressed, anything declared by this section to be nonmailable, unless in accordance with the rules and regulations hereby authorized to be prescribed by the Postmaster General, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than two years, or both.

This section also covers all kinds of poison and all compositions, containing poison, and all poisonous animals, insects and reptiles, and explosives of all kinds, and inflammable materials, and infernal machines, and mechanical, chemical, or other devices or compositions which may ignite or explode.

WACs Lauded As Component Part of Army

Statements from both military and civilian leaders staunchly support the work of the Women's Army Corps. The WAC, a regular component of our Army, has taken its rightful place alongside the other great organizations which make up our fighting forces bringing victories on all parts of the globe.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt said: "Those of us who have seen and know the work the Wacs are doing, throughout the military establishments of our country and in foreign stations, have only admiration and respect for the spirit, the dignity, and the courage they have shown."

General Dwight D. Eisenhower says: "The only thing that we need to win the war is for every man and every woman to do his or her full duty."

General George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff, said: "Commanders to whom the Wacs have been assigned have spoken in the highest terms of their efficiency and value. The best evidence in the matter is the fact that the War Department for increased allotments of WAC organizations, which total hundreds of thousands."

Dr. J. Quinter Miller, of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, says: "Recently I visited WAC Training Centers and Army posts where Wacs are stationed. I was deeply impressed by the fine type of woman I met, the seriousness with which they do their jobs, the pride they feel in being members of this splendid organization."

Mrs. Linville K. Martin, president of the Association of Junior Leagues of America, says: "I have watched the Wacs at work for several months. I can understand readily that they set the men a marvelous example of military as well as work habits. I am proud that many Junior League members have joined the WAC, and I hope that many more will come in this year."

Lt. Mary A. O'Connor, Sgt. Esther Facko, Sgt. Claude VanAndel of the Erie WAC Recruiting Office will maintain offices in the YWCA in Warren on December 12 from 2 until 9 p. m. Consult them on any questions you may have concerning the WAC.

Simplifying Farm Work Movie Theme

"Whether or not the present farm labor shortage continues," says C. G. Dick, Sinclair Agent, at Warren, the problem is becoming all the more difficult for the farmer. He is asked to do a bigger job than ever with his present inadequate set-up.

"That means finding ways and means to cut job time and get more work done. Sinclair has been studying the farm problem. With the help of Government and college agricultural experts, also practical farmers, methods have been devised looking toward time and labor saving for the farmer.

"These methods," said Mr. Dick, "will be demonstrated at a 'Farm Work Simplification' meeting which we are holding in Y. M. C. A., Warren, Wednesday, December 13th. A new motion picture will be presented showing how farmers have applied simplification to farming operations with considerable savings in time and labor.

"Study and analysis of the details of farm jobs by farmers, themselves, have shown where operations could be combined or rearranged to save time and work. In one instance of feeding job customarily done in 119 operations was reduced to 81 operations, obviously saving much time and work."

"We are confident," added Dick, "that farm work simplification, as demonstrated at the meeting, will be both interesting and helpful to farmers."

Mr. Dick stated that two other motion pictures, one a special full color musical, and other entertaining features would be part of the meeting. Farmers and their families are cordially invited to attend. Door prizes will be awarded and admission is free.

Clarendon, Kinzua, Youngsville Have Encouraging Bond Sales

Though Warren County as a whole was still trailing in the race for the Sixth War Loan, various outlying communities were steamrolling right along and turning in reports which indicate that some of them may exceed their quotas by 200% or more. Leading the field is the Clarendon area under A. W. Goal, the district leader, and Mrs. Chas. A. Schneider, Team Captain. Their district quota of "E" Bonds was set at $4,000, and subscriptions up to this morning stood at $7,808.50, or nearly double the mark set for them to aim at. In addition, Clarendon district's total sales of all types of bonds has reached $30,933.50, which is bound to be a big help in the county's over-all quota. Excellent work has been turned in by every worker in this district, and great credit is also due to the efforts of Harry Schmidt, the district's Underwriter's representative, and C. C. Burch, principal of the Clarendon school. Other members of the Clarendon Team are: Mrs. Edw. Moore, Mrs. Clayton Simpson, Miss Eva Keefe, Mrs. J. Dorsey, Mrs. Lloyd Knight, Mrs. Geo. Champion, Mrs. Lou Keenan, Miss Minnie Hanson, Mrs. Barney Hughes, Mrs. Reno Blanchard.

Though the exact figures were not available at press-time, preliminary reports indicate that Kinzua, under Mr. R. B. Leonard, district leader and Mrs. W. Boyd English and Mrs. E. L. Vanickel, Team Captains, would not only equal their district quota, but double it. And the same fine outlook is indicated for the Youngsville district under Mr. Howard Kay.

The percentage figure reported for the county in last Friday's paper was correctly stated as 44% of over-all county quota, and "E" Bond sales of $205,000, was the correct amount for these "people's" bonds. But the total sales figure stated for the county, as of December 2nd, should have been given as $1,327,000—a typographical error gave us a mysterious additional million dollars in sales. As promised in Friday's paper, we are here supplying a list of all the county's issuing agencies (where Bonds subscribed for may be picked up and paid for as well as purchased) and a list of the hard-working Warren borough organization, any member of which will be glad to

How to stretch a ton of coal!

CONSERVING coal is going to be a "must" for everybody this winter. This isn't because less coal is being mined.

It is estimated that 29 millions more tons of coal will be mined this year than last—with fewer men. Quite a feat by mine owners and miners alike! And there are adequate rail facilities for bringing the coal to your city.

But certain grades and sizes of coal are needed for war production. And, in addition, your local dealer is suffering from a shortage of manpower, trucks and tires. So be patient with him.

And conserve the coal he is able to deliver to you. You can make your coal supply go at least 10% further—and save that much on your fuel bill—by taking a number of simple precautions.

See that your heating system is clean and in good repair. Close off unused bedrooms. Pull your shades and drapes at night. If you can, insulate. For other suggestions see your coal dealer.

One of the biggest jobs of the C&O Lines is hauling coal from the mines along its routes, so we're in a position to understand the problem, and to know how essential coal is these days.

20 YEARS AGO TODAY

Warren's Sixth War Loan came down the home stretch with only 44% of $3,050,000 reached. Sales of the all important "E" Bond totaled less than 30% of quota. Coming on the heels of a fall-down in the Fifth War Loan, Warren Countians had little to feel proud of.

This would make pleasant reading on December 11th, 1964. It does not make pleasant reading now! But it's true. What are we doing about it?

Are the workers doing their share? We believe they are. Are the large industries and corporations doing all they might? Reports indicate they are. Why the smug complacency on the part of the Warren County public in this 6th War Loan? What are we waiting for? The man in the shop? The neighbor across the street? The boy or girl in the service?

Let's get rid of the notion that this war is "in the bag". It may be unpleasant to face it, but let's have the courage and fortitude to do so. There's a war still to be won! And it can only be won if we dig down and pay for the winning of it now—today—this week. Forget for a moment that your purchase of an extra war bond is an investment that will yield a fine return ten years from now. Forget that you may have already bought a bond, even an extra bond during this campaign. Forget everything—but this . . .

During each twenty-four hours of this day some boy or man from Warren County is facing danger or even death for you and me. He may be cold, hungry, in pain. He may be a prisoner of the Japs, may never walk, may never see again. And, he's not complaining. Besides all this he himself is buying bonds to the limit of his modest GI pay.

The 6th War Loan has fallen down in Warren County and will continue to fall down here unless each one of us gets over the mistaken idea that "it's in the bag". This is far from the truth and each one of us knows it. Figures published thus far indicate our showing is far from pleasant. We in Warren County have not done our share of buying, we have not begun to match the sacrifices that the boys in the service are making. We've not yet begun to fight!

McKean County may have gone over the top. Allegheny County may be near their goal, Venango's record is good, as are nearly all the other 19 counties in this area—except our own Warren County. If this means we're going to quit let's say so and loud enough for all to hear. Personally we hope this is not the case—merely that we've not yet begun to fight! The Bonds you buy tomorrow will prove what you are—a quitter or a fighter!

Hundreds of shoppers thronged the business section Saturday afternoon and evening, indicating that there are folks who are not going to delay gift buying until the last minute. The advertisements point the way, shop windows look inviting—and the Christmas shopping crowds are pouring in. We have much to be thankful for—especially in the variety of articles offered as gifts, when a nation's at war.

One of the hot spots to watch, according to war analysts, is that great Russian drive through the heart of Hungary, because it may easily develop shortly into one of the decisive engagements of the war and alter the complexion of the conflict in eastern Europe.

Two pints of blood not only give you a quart, but they give some soldier a chance to live. Donate at the Red Cross next Monday or Tuesday—and keep your appointment.

Now is your chance to play a part in big business—the nation's biggest! Buy War Bonds!

There's no question about the cigaret shortage—in other words, no butts!

The last two weeks are the hardest during the Christmas season—and the good old holiday season can take an awful beating if you are not careful. The jitters are abroad in the land. You get 'em when you start on that belated tour of the stores searching for a gift for your brother Enoch and your Aunt Melissa. In the stores the sales people have been exercising their bunnions for days on end and every little toe on every little foot is howling to be the piggy that stayed at home. Tempers are growing shorter and the lines of weariness are fairly digging into the bile of folks on both sides of the counters.

So what can we do to besavard the jitters?

Simply trot out the old Golden Rule and polish it off and kiss you temper dry.

Island Song
by Owen Atkinson

Chapter 21

AFTER Kumu, followed the other chiefs, some in cloaks of red, others in bright orange, decorated with half-moons and stars and crescents, all symbols of the divi. Each man in the wedding procession carried the old primitive weapons of his forefathers and wore about his neck the tell-tale bone-and-hair necklace.

With each party was the official chanter of that chief. It was his duty to recite in a sing-song voice the history of the family, tell of its great heroes and warriors, its triumphs and battles and victories.

The legends of the islands were handed down this way—by mele chanter, from word of mouth to the next in line. The story of the Creation and of the great flood and the two sons of the god—who fought until one was killed and the other banished from the islands. Liloa knew most of them by heart. She had heard them chanted by the Reverend Hana and Kilani and the old queen, Liloa.

The feather cloaks gleamed in the flashing torch light. Cloaks that had taken women ten and twenty years to make, each tiny, colored feather being woven into the fish-net base of the garment, feathers taken from birds long ago extinct.

And the feathered helmets. Where had the ancient Hawaiians gotten that pattern? So like the Greek—more like the steel helmet of a Spanish soldier. One legend told of a great boat, with white wings, which had landed on the shore of Kauai hundreds of years ago. Spanish, perhaps, which might explain the helmets and the story of the Creation and the flood.

With the procession came a troop of hula girls, plump, brown-skinned, smiling, wearing only skirts of green ti leaves, with flower leis about their necks and anklets.

The palace guards stood at rigid attention, like statues, as the procession swung past them. Here, in this line of marching men, were the great ones of Hawaii, sons of sons of kings, chiefs whose word had been life or death in the old days, descendants of the great warriors of Kamehameha who had conquered all the island kingdoms and driven the forces of his enemies off cliffs into the sea to drown.

BUT the procession, for all its glittering splendor and flashing lights, meant only to Liloa that the time was drawing near when David would come to her. If it could only be Jason who would come to her tent! Ah, but that was impossible! Jason was far away in prison—dead even now, perhaps! She did not know.

She moved away from the opening, flung herself on the couch. She could tell by the noise outside that the chiefs were entering the palace. Crowds could be heard moving about the grounds, and once somebody came near the tent and was challenged by the guards who surrounded it.

And then a new and strange noise penetrated into her consciousness. There was an angry buzz of talk outside. A roar, Men began to shout and run up and down the paths. A shot banged out abruptly. Silence. Then another shot, and another.

Liloa sprang to her feet and listened breathlessly. What could it be? Riot? Revolution? And then a thought struck her with stunning force. Perhaps Jason had escaped from the fort—had come to rescue her. Liloa's heart began to pound excitedly and she moved nervously about the tent.

More shots outside and the stamp of many feet. A hoarse voice called out orders. There was the clash of steel against steel. Men surged about the tent, grunting and cursing. The guards were fighting off the intruders—whoever they might be.

The noise of fighting swelled to a mad confusion of sound. More shots and yells and, somewhere very near, the groans of a wounded man. If only Jason were here! Liloa looked through the flap of the tent, but could see little. Lights moved hurriedly about the grounds. Crowds swayed and fought and trampled over the flower beds. The darkness was punctuated by spurts of flame as rifles barked. Where was Jason? If he were here, why didn't he come to her?

And then Liloa heard the sound she had been expecting so eagerly. Hurried footsteps outside the tent. A hand grasped the flap and jerked it to one side. A man stood there in the dark, peering into the tent, breathing heavily. . . .

ON THE BEACH, where he found himself after escaping from the fort Jason stirred and sat up. His strength was coming back, but his body was beginning to chill. Wet trousers clung to his thighs; his shirt, torn and dirty, was a thin covering from the night air. He shivered and crawled to his feet, thrusting his arms about to get warm.

He had no idea of the time, but knew that it had been several hours since sunset. Better be on his way to the palace. He moved off toward the town, his shoes squirting water at every step. Where was Caleb? Liloa? What had happened during the long days he had been in his cell?

Liloa! He must reach her before midnight. Her wedding hour. He passed the corner of Fort Street where stood the maki alleys. Here the chiefs played at their interminable gaming during the day. Just ahead he could see the outlines of the Mission, also dark and empty. The town was strangely quiet.

member once yours truly got a book "With Lee in Virginia" in which a southern boy did battle on the side of the South in the late unpleasantness between the two sections. Boy did that make the kids mad and finally Jonas Shear borrow the book and it never came back. That feature of the thing is firmly implanted and it still causes the old heart to be stirred by a certain amount of rancor and just pure cussedness. But anyway back in those old days books were not too plentiful—especially those with the nice red bindings.

Bucks are at a premium and the word filters in that McKean, Elk and Forest counties have had no larger kills of the agile animal than has Warren county. Game Protectors and veteran hunters are at a loss to explain the cause as they have put forth a varied number of excuses as to why the kill has been so small.

haven't shot 'em, that's all. The deer are in the woods and the hunters have been there, too and by golly the deer are staying and the boys are going home. But they do say that there have been more wild duces in many of the camps chased to their lair and that straight flushes have also been wildly sought and that full houses applied not only to the many boys in the camps. Now all the fact that some of the boys have saved their allotment from the state liquor stores for the hunt season and all the slugs were not in the guns. Opticians say that one cigarette will affect the eyesight and it may be that seeing spots at night may have interfered with the eagle eye squinting through the Lyman sights on the following day. Somehow a fellow just can't help wondering if the nocturnal pastimes at some of the camps may have materially aided the deer in living on unscathed to browse about next summer. Could be!

By golly if you don't have your turkey lined up for the festive board at Christmas tide the prospects are that you will dine on creamed dried beef and baked potatoes or maybe a mess of potage consisting of sauer kraut and winners. Because there really is a turkey shortage in this section have turkey farms in this section have sold out of birds. One near Titusville was swamped on the day following an advertisement that they had 700 birds. They were snapped up almost as fast as Joe Stalin signs up a Balkan country to his kite string. In this country there are going to be mighty few birds and what there are have almost all been sold.

And ham? You know a lot of folks go in for that delicacy baked with sweet potatoes and things. Well the hams are darned scarce too and the meat dealers are not promising a thing. But Deb Lewis and Leo Angove do say as how they have a barrel or two of sauer kraut so just don't hesitate if the little woman can turn out some dumplings which with sauer kraut and spec don't make too bad a dish to set before a king.

O'Connor Co. Exceeds War Bond Quota

The O'Connor Machine Co., one of the smallest firms in the country to win the coveted Army-Navy "E", should now be awarded an other "E" for their showing in war bond purchases, in the opinion of the Warren County Finance Committee.

Backing the attack by the production of needed war material is not enough for the 35 employees of the Sheffield concern who have already exceeded their Sixth War Loan quota by 17 per cent.

The report of Mrs. Patricia Sanford, the plant's treasury representative, shows that regular payroll purchases from November 1st to December 7th netted $1,475 toward the company's quota of $2,625, and extra bond purchases have already boosted the total to $3,075.

Every employee of the O'Connor Machine Company invests 10% of every pay check in War Bonds through the payroll allotment plan—this in itself merits special commendation. But the 123 extra bonds, totaling $1,600, purchased thus far in the Sixth War Loan are an equal proof of the patriotism of the war workers of the Sheffield industry.

"O'Connor's" has made a record that Warren County can well be proud of and which will not go unnoticed in the Fort Pitt area.

Former Local Lad Is Seven Years In Navy

News for the Times-Mirror's service column comes from many sources, and the following clipping from a Framingham, Mass., paper will be of much interest to a former Warren family:

James R. Larsen, TM k/c, U. S. Navy, is spending a five day leave with his wife, the former Margaret Perkins, and their son, James, at their home, 31 Dennison avenue. He has just completed aerial torpedo school and upon his return will attend electric torpedo school.

Petty Officer Larsen, who has been in the navy for seven years, served aboard a destroyer for three years before the war and, since the war began, he spent six more months on a destroyer fighting submarines on the North Atlantic patrol. For 18 months before attending the service school at Newport, he served on a PT boat, operating from an advanced base in the Pacific, also chasing submarines. When he was assigned to the destroyer, his ship was credited with at least one submarine.

Larsen, whose home was formerly in Warren, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y., has two brothers in the service, Pvt. William Larsen, of the paratroops, and Lt. Robert Larsen, a bombardier-navigator with the Army Air Corps in Casper, Wyo.

Good Conduct Award Given Warren Girl

Somewhere in New Guinea—On a parade ground still surrounded by the remains of tangled undergrowth, 96 members of the WAC detachment attached to headquarters of the Far East Air Forces were recently presented Good Conduct ribbons by Lt. General George C. Kenney, commanding general.

Among those members of the Woman's Army Corps who received the award for "exemplary behavior, efficiency and fidelity" was Sgt. Louise V. Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil K. Bell, 2101 Pennsylvania avenue, east, Warren, Pa.

The first ceremony of its kind held, it included the individual presentation of ribbons followed by a formal retreat formation. Following retreat, the detachment was briefly addressed by General Kenney, who complimented the women on the quality and consistency of their work in his command, which "undoubtedly aided greatly in the preparations for the recent Philippine invasion".

Warren Man Now Captain

William C. Fuellhart, of Warren, has been promoted from lieutenant to the rank of captain, according to a headquarters announcement received today from Tyndall Field, Fla., where he is stationed.

Tyndall Field is one of the largest flexible gunnery schools in the AAF Training Command and Capt. Fuellhart is assigned there as officer in charge of weapons.

He joined the army in February, 1943, as a first lieutenant in the Coast Artillery, and was assigned to an anti-aircraft unit. A year later, Capt. Fuellhart was transferred to the Air Corps and, after completing the aerial gunnery course at Buckingham Field, Fla., was assigned to Tyndall.

Prior to joining the army, Capt. Fuellhart was in the lumber business here. Mrs. Fuellhart and their five children live at 406 West Third avenue.

★ "When folks set out to buy a home after the war, they'll take a good look at the heating system downstairs. That's why houses I build will have automatic gas heating... to sell smart people!"

Going home-hunting when peace comes?

No matter where you discover your dream home, make certain that the heating system is dependable. Consider, too, the problems of fuel deliveries and storage, of possible dirt and dust and odors. Be sure that your heating system will be automatic, clean and economical.

New and better gas heating systems will be available when the war is won.

They will be more compact to save space for that rumpus room you've promised the family... more attractive in finish to harmonize with home surroundings. They probably will be so self-sufficient that not even manual start-up and shut-down in spring or fall will be required... so thrifty that the pilot light will flame only when the burner needs to be ignited.

Remember to see what the house which takes your eye, also has what it takes for doing the heating job. It will if there's good automatic gas heating equipment down in the cellar where smart folks will decide!

Schools Set Record For Bond Sales

While a complete statistical report is not available today on the Sixth War Loan results in Warren borough schools, the following information is released today by Superintendent John G. Rossman:

On the basis of Tuesday sales, when the school drive was brought to a close, stamps and bonds, the latter at actual value, were purchased by teachers and students for a total of $33,167.60. In addition to this figure, and included in the period in which the Sixth War Loan drive has been under way, November sales reached a total of $10,258.78, or a grand total for this Sixth War Loan of $43,426.38.

Going back to the beginning of the current school term, sales for the September-October period were an additional $8,864.26, or a total of $50,290.64 since school started an early September.

YOUNGVILLE NEWS

Youngville, Dec. 11—Youngville schools are making an enviable record in their eight weeks of bond sale as their total sale is $252,18. Wed. 5th the sale of bonds and stamps amounted to 1,522.28.

It was the 10th grade that again topped the total. Their sale was $54.80. Room 3 carried through 4th $187.90 so again received one dollar award.

The 4th grade came across with $90.90 to take honors there. Twelve ooms get the gold star for 100 per cent last week namely, 1, 3, 5, 10, 13, 14, 15, 8th, 7th, 6th and 2nd.

There was much enthusiasm in school as this was a banner week for far as sales were concerned. The Minute-Man flag still flies on the pole of Y. H. S.

LUTHERAN CANTATA

The twenty voices of the Lutheran choir will be heard at 4 p. m. Sunday Dec. 17 when in the Saron Lutheran church they present the beautiful Cantata, "The Light of the World" by Norman.

Quaintance Class Holds Christmas Meeting and Party

Mr. and Mrs. George Spinney, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Albaugh and Mrs. Walter Kifer, committee in charge of the December meeting of the Quaintance Class of the First Baptist church, entertained 36 of its members at a fine Christmas party on Friday night.

The room was decorated with a small, beautifully decorated tree, and Santa and his sleigh occupied a prominent position beneath a miniature tree in the center of the table.

In a short business session conducted by President George Spinney, plans were made to entertain service men located around Warren who would be unable to get home for Christmas, inviting them to private homes for Christmas dinner. Any member of the class or church who can make provisions for one or more of such service men are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Spinney, 2528.

Mrs. Charles Atkins, in charge of devotions, opened the service by having the group sing carols, after which she read the Christmas Story from the second chapter of Luke. Mrs. LeRoy Stoddard led the prayer service and Mrs. Francis Hetrick gave two lovely readings, "Mary, Mother of Jesus" and "Overseas". The latter she recently received from Elizabeth Beck Davidson, wife of the former pastor, who is now chaplain at Bluefield Field, Wilmington, N. C. She composed it while they were awaiting Capt. Davidson's call for overseas duty.

Mrs. Edwin Jack, accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Swanson at the piano, sang two lovely solos, "They Sang That Night in Bethlehem" by Schubert and "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" by McGinsey. Lunch was served by the committee and gifts for members were distributed by candlelight by the class president.

Faculty Is Planning Christmas Party at Conservatory

The faculty of the Warren Conservatory of Music is issuing invitations for a Christmas party for students, first affair of this kind in many seasons and one which is sure to meet with approval on all sides.

The party is to be held in Conservatory Hall on Tuesday evening, December 19, at 7:15 p. m., the schedule to include "fun, frolic, games, carol singing and refreshments". More of the details will be announced in a later issue.

At the regular recital on Saturday evening, feature numbers included a clarinet quartet composed of Lucile Samuelson, Nestore Bartholomew, Jr., Tommy Grillo and Ralph Rurillo; also a clarinet solo by Nestore Bartholomew, Jr., with Mrs. Bartholomew at the piano.

Those appearing in regular piano solos were Julia and Nula Cheronis, Connie Knupp, Barbara Linder, Sue Sheldon, Marcia Forsgren, Betty Lou Hook, Jack Eggleston, Betty Hummel and Diane DeMarco.

There will be no recital this Saturday night because of preparations under way for the Christmas festival.

ANNUAL CEREMONY AT YWCA TONIGHT

Each year, at the beginning of the Christmas season, the YWCA of Warren holds a special ceremony which is called "Hanging of the Greens". It is an occasion which arouses the interest of all YW members, old and young, and affords opportunity for all to participate together in preparing for Christmas.

The ceremony is exactly what its name implies. Following a short program, concerning the traditional and religious background of greens at Christmas time, everyone helps to hang the boughs of evergreen through the rooms and to decorate the Christmas tree.

The Christmas season will thus be ushered in at the activities building at 7:30 this evening and all are welcome.

RECREATION NIGHT

A recreation evening sponsored by the education and recreation committee of the YWCA was held on Saturday, when games and dancing were enjoyed. The activities began at 8:30 p. m., when table games were played in the social room. Dancing to the music of the nickelodeon followed in the gym.

CHRISTMAS SERVICE IS WELL ATTENDED

The candlelight carata and Christmas service held Sunday evening in Grace Methodist church was well attended and proved a very well prepared and beautifully presented program. The choir was under the direction of Mrs. Edwin Jack, with Miss Linnea Scott, as organist. Special selections were by a clarinet trio composed of Virginia Johnson, Beth Smith and William Blair, playing an arrangement by Harry A. Summers; solo by Beulah Krebs; vocal quartet, Margaret Davies, Grace Johnson, Russell Templeton and W. C. Carlson; solo, Charlotte Smith.

PRE-SCHOOL MOTHERS UNIT HOLDS PARTY

About 30 mothers of the Pre-school Mothers Club, with their children, gathered at the YWCA activities building Saturday afternoon at three o'clock for a very enjoyable Christmas party. Movies were shown by Emmett Hutchens and Kenneth Greenlund in distribut-ing gifts and popcorn balls to the youngsters. Afterwards refreshments were served. The committee on arrangements was composed of Mrs. Karl Timm, Mrs. Kenneth Greenlund, Mrs. Louis Gaghan and Mrs. Wilda Fowler.

I. T. CLASS PLANNING FOR SPECIAL EVENT

The I. T. Class of Epworth Methodist church will have a Christmas program at the church Tuesday evening. This will be followed by a grab bag and social hour, with the following as hostesses: Mrs. Alfred Johnson, Mrs. J. W. Green, Miss Bertha Mohr, Mrs. Herbert Hartweg, Miss Bernadine Smith, Mrs. Anna Smith and Miss Eliza Baldensperger. Mrs. Roy Lowe is chairman of the program committee.

REBEKAH LODGE

Lady Warren Rebekah members and friends enjoyed a delightful card party Friday afternoon, with prizes going to Vera Wood, Ethel Dirling, Ada Phillips, Lena Fraring and Edith Check. Emma Pepperman and Rose Kinkead were in charge of the party. Next Friday afternoon members will meet in the lodge hall at two o'clock to sew for the soldiers. There will be a tureen supper at six o'clock, followed by the regular lodge meeting at eight.

Dragons Drop Split Second Decision To Jamestown

Timers' Decision Fails to Count Warren Conversion as Red and Green Wins, 34-33

With just thirty-three seconds remaining to be played in the annual Warren-Jamestown court clash, ace basketball Joe Scalise dropped in a beautiful long range set shot to bring his Dragon crew within one point of Jamestown High's Red and Green five. Some 1000 wild-eyed fans all but went crazy as the Massa-coached quint drew within one lone point of a possible tie score or even winning by a scant single point margin. The loyal Dragon fans went on the rampage as clever Bobby Hammerbeck made one last attempt to put his crew back in the running as he grabbed a jump ball and smashed into the basket, making the heave to put the Dragons out in front by a small 35-34 edge. Pandemonium broke loose as hundreds of followers swarmed onto the court to verse messages of congratulation. Jamestown, still not knowing the game was over, gained control of the ball and raced down the floor to make good a conversion. The loud cheers prevented players, as well as spectators, from hearing the timers' whistle which officially ended the do-or-die battle a split second before Hammerbeck made good his shot.

Probably 300 fans swarmed from amidst the Beaty gym with little doubt that Warren had taken the thriller by the one point made by Hammerbeck. Timer J. B. Leidig, however, ruled that the ball had not been in flight at the time of the whistle. Disappointed, the players and the loyal throng went their way.

Probably no game ever played on the Beaty court aroused so much anxiety as was shown Friday night. Before a packed house both crews put up a magnificent struggle, and with minutes remaining to be played, the Warren crew was on the short end of a 33-27 count. Time meant nothing to the Massmen as they jumped to within four points on Hammerbeck's fling from the foul circle. Milotto, captain of the Red and Green quintet, dumped in a charity throw to give his mates a five point lead, but the Warren five laughed at admitting defeat and launched a full swing campaign to annex their third straight win of the year. Joe Scalise let go with a long heave which swished the strings and brought in locals within three points of the stubborn Taftmen. With the tally standing at 34-31, Scalise, showing brilliant shooting ability in the final two periods, grabbed a long pass and raced into the basket for another two points. Then came the climax of the contest when Official Piney Johnson, fans, or players failed to hear the timers' whistle ending the game with Roland Taft's five leading by one lone point.

Coach Massa's boys used a man-for-man defense throughout the entire battle. Al Babcock doing a splendid job of stopping the Red and Green 6 ft. 8 in. giant, Royce Newell. Babcock held the tower-

2nds Tounce Empire State Junior Varsity

The High School Second squad notched another mark in their victory string Friday night as they tounded Jamestown's J-V quint preceding the main Varsity affair. Jim Farrell and Jim Scalise prodded their teammates to a 35-28 decision over the Red and Green junior crew, Farrell annexing 11 markers and Scalise collecting 10 points.

The Warren crew started out on the wrong foot at the ending of the first period were on the short end of a 6-5 tally. Farrell's deadly set shots started to click and the Seconds completed 6 field goals and one free throw to Jamestown's 2 goals and a charity throw to put the locals out in front at halftime 18-11, Farrell accounting for 9 tallies in the second stanza.

In the last half, the Warren second stringers badly outplayed the Jamestown quint, passing with agility and connecting with a fine percentage of their attempts. At the end of the third quarter, the locals held a 30-18 lead and held the opponents in the final quarter to come out with the 35-28 win.

BEHIND THE LINES

This past weekend has revealed plenty of good basketball to the fans in the section. With the Warren-Jamestown thriller on the Beaty court Friday and our good fortune to take in the double-header at Memorial Auditorium in Buffalo Saturday evening, we are well satisfied with all that we witness. Nothing can beat those twin bills at the Auditorium. Saturday, Westminster took a 44-33 loss from the Oklahoma Aggies, who boast the nation's largest "giant" seven foot Bob Kurland. Two years ago, Mr. Kurland was nothing but an overgrown boy, but in the time he has spent with the Aggies, he has developed into an excellent ball player. One would think that, with his added height, he would do nothing but stand under either hoop and bat the ball around. He does both, but he is also capable of doing what a short player does. All his points are not collected within a few feet of the basket. Kurland manages to make some beautiful cuts and is one of the finest pivot post players ever to set foot on a hardwood.

His 14 points Saturday proved that his ball playing is on the spectacular side. Last season, Mr. "Big" collected a total of 44 points. He is accomplished at knocking down his opponent's attempts at the hoop. Our main attraction at the Auditorium was not big Bob Kurland, though. We went to see Warren's own Dean Nelson, slated to be in one of the first five posts in the Aggie-Westminster clash. The Titan coach withheld Nelson from the entire game due to a knee hindrance which he suffered in the 42-3 Warren-Bradford affair on the Beaty court. Washabaugh said that he is awaiting a knee support and that he wanted to take no chances on having Nelson injured. Dean is the second tallest man on the Westminster 5, Jorgensen hitting the 6'8" mark. The Buffalo tilt was really a rough game. Both teams proved to be over-average ball hawks. The second game was a thriller also. At the final whistle both crews had totaled 33 points, and in the overtime period, Cornell took a one point decision over the Buffalo Canisius crew.

Coming bak to the local fray Friday, Warren followers had a real treat and those who missed the contest certainly missed a fine exhibition. Joe Massa should be highly complimented for his team's showing on the Beaty hardwood. Although the Dragons came out on the short end of a 34-33 count, they came too close to a vain to be comfortable for the Red and Green quintet. Even this corner was under the impression that Warren had sneaked off with the one-point decision. The timers' decision showed that Hammerbeck's last second basket was about one second too short of making good the Warren win.

CONEWANGO CLUB
The Conewango Club race tightened even further Friday night when the MacDonalds crashed through in their third game to break even with the Plummers, the deadlock dropping the Plummers into a tie for first place with the McClures and the Pettibones. With Bob Gibb's 223 a big factor, the Plummers capped the first game by three pins, although Doc Elliott contributed a 202 for the MacDonalds. The second game went to the league-leaders by 19 pins, but the MacDonalds got enough in the third, Gibb's 549 was tops for the Plummers and Howells 551 topped the MacDonald scores.

Grandma Knew Just What To Do... AND HOW TO DO WITHOUT

Scraps, nails and string... paper, fats and fuel... anything and everything that could serve another time or another purpose was saved by our ancestors as a matter of dire necessity. The frugality of America's rugged pioneers helped to win battle after battle in our nation's history.

Today, our country asks us to practice that same frugality to help win the war, to save our way of life and to protect our freedom of opportunity for every American family.

Peace and the change-over from war-stimulated activity will pose many problems to challenge the ingenuity of every one of us. Fortune will favor the family that has learned to save and has bolstered its future by the purchase of War Bonds. It's so much sounder to save than to wait to be saved.

Major Heads Against the Minor Plans

By JOE REICHLER
New York, Dec. 11—(AP)—The major-minor league annual meeting opened today at the Hotel New Yorker and the news was passed by word of mouth that the big leagues probably will reject the minor leagues-approved boost in draft and waiver prices.

No official word permit himself to be quoted, but an authoritative source indicated that the amendment to increase the waiver price by 33 1/2 per cent would be turned down by the majors as well as the amendment to add territorial protection for the minors from threats of invasion by major league clubs.

Meantime a pool of a majority of big league club owners indicated the game will be ruled by a three-man advisory council comprised of Ford Frick, National League president; Will Harridge, American League proxy; and Leslie M. O'Connor, secretary to the late Commissioner K. M. Landis.

Without exception each of the magnates interviewed agreed this would be the best solution until after the war, or at least for a period of one year.

Clark Griffith, on the other hand, stated that he favored the choosing of a successor to Landis immediately. The Washington owner sprang a surprise when he intimated that he would ask for only 35 night games for 1945 instead of an unlimited arc-light schedule.

At least four deals are more than in the rumor-stage, with the four-man swap involving Pitcher Bill Dietrich and Outfielder Guy Cuthbert of the Chicago White Sox and Pitcher Jim Bagby and Outfielders Oris Hockett of the Cleveland Indians looming as the most important. The Tribe would also like Catcher Ike Tresh.

Landis joined such illustrious baseball men as John McGraw, Connie Mack, Ban Johnson, George Wright and Morgan G. Bulkeley when he was elected yesterday to baseball's hall of fame.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Dec. 11—(AP)—Suggestion for the major league magnates who will be meeting here for the next few days (with an assist for minors): Since Judge Landis insisted that he wanted no statues and memorials and since his son, Col. Reed Landis, has suggested that the money should be devoted to developing boys' baseball, how about organizing and helping to support "Landis Leagues" for kids throughout the country?

The Minors already have proposed some good plans for helping high school baseball, but that won't keep the kids going through the summer. . . . Don't go too far on the report that Jock Sutherland will be back to coach Brooklyn's pro football team next fall. . . . A roundabout but apparently sound report says Jock is looking toward the college field instead.

A Good Start
The Sporting News comes up with a Judge Landis story we'd never heard. . . . When the major league club owners met to install him as commissioner in 1921, the Judge was missing. . . . A courier finally located him watching a kid game on a vacant lot. . . . When Landis finally reached the meeting, he apologized: "Sorry, gentlemen, I came upon the opening game of the season in a vacant cow pasture and I just had to stop and look at it."

Monday Matinee
Local basketball coaches already sniping at this year's new rules. They figure some coaches—other guys, of course—may take advantage of the unlimited substitution privileges to stop the clock late in the game and that some boys may even fake injuries to get officials to call time out. . . . Cincinnati's Ray Mueller has picked up 12 pounds since he caught his 217th consecutive ball game at the end of the season. Now he's eager to start again after George Gibson's mark of 433 straight. . . . The Boxing Writers Association will meet tomorrow to select the 1944 winner of the Eddie Nell memorial award. . . . Indiana's basketballers call Forward Charles Radcliffe "machine gun" because he shoots all the time. Wonder who aims him?

SPORT SHORTS
New York, Dec. 11—(AP)—The U. S. Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association may expand into Canada after the war, it was indicated over the weekend at the annual meeting of the I.L.A. Richard Brakley, vice president of the Quebec Association, attended and the formation of a "box" lacrosse league in the eastern United States was discussed.

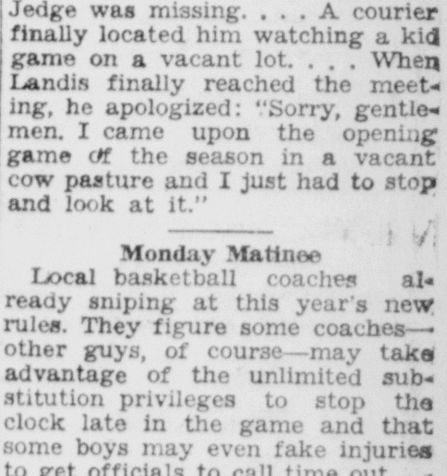

New York, Dec. 11—(AP)—Morton G. Bogue, New York, has been nominated for the presidency of the U. S. Golf Association. The election will be held at the annual meeting Jan. 13.

Los Angeles, Dec. 11—(AP)—Randolph Field's Ramblers were a lot closer today to the National Service Football Championship after handing the March Field, Calif., Flyers their first defeat of the season. The galling Texans hung up a 20-7 victory before 50,000 spectators yesterday in the Coliseum.

JANE ARMY NURSE WRITES TO HER DAD

Dear Dad,

I spent last month aboard an aircraft carrier while we moved up to take Iwo Jima.

Our casualty unit set a record—getting ashore right after the sea breeze—before the Marines had even had time to get ashore.

The Marines about it but golly, Dad—we aren't kidding when we tell you how desperately used cooking pots are needed for meat and beans and mince-meat.

Love,
Jane

Panic Sweeps Budapest at Red Approach

not make a battleground of the city itself.

Other Russian columns far to the north of Budapest reached the central Slovakian frontier on a front of at least 11 miles. The Soviet communiqué said more than 40 places fell yesterday to the Second Ukrainian Army drive north and northeast of the capital.

Red Army forces immediately north of Budapest had smashed six miles down the Danube from captured Vacs, on the great bend where the river turns west toward Vienna, and taken Alsodud.

The Germans disclosed that Russian armored forces driving up the west bank of the Danube from Ercsi were less than five miles from the city's outskirts. The Germans said Ercsi was captured.

Hungary's puppet government already has fled Budapest to the Austrian frontier town of Sopron. A Berlin broadcast early today said a tremendous Soviet offensive was in the making in the Vistula bridgehead at Baranov, Poland, and that a large scale drive aimed at Cracow could be expected.

The Soviet communiqué said Russian troops had repelled six German attempts to capture a Russian stronghold west of Jelgava, in Latvia, where huge German forces are being pressed against the Baltic.

TOP CHARACTER ACTOR IS CALLED IN DEATH

Hollywood, Dec. 11.—(P)—Death has taken 28-year-old Laird Cregar, who said he found employment "terrified" by his 6-foot-3, 300-pound figure but went on to become one of the movies' top character actors.

He succumbed at 4:15 p. m. Saturday after two heart attacks. A week ago he underwent an abdominal operation, in preparation for which he had dieted away 100 pounds.

His pictures included "Hudson's Bay", "Blood and Sand", "Charlie's Aunt", "Hot Spot", "This Gun for Hire", "Heaven Can Wait", "Holy Matrimony", "The Lodger" and "Hangover Square."

Thorn and Eichtz Captured by First Army

Third Army hold only about a fifth of Dillingen, where a tank factory and one of the Saarland's largest steel plants are located.

The Seventh Army battling for Haguenau, city of 19,500 in the Karlsruhe corner 31 miles from that city on the Rhine, was engaged heavily near the village of Griesbach and at Mertzwiller.

Floods impeded other Seventh Army units and French First Army troops in the cleanup of what remains of the Alsatian pocket centered by Colmar. The storming of Kientzheim and Sigelheim placed the Americans within three and a half miles of Colmar to the northwest. The French were four miles west.

More than 500 heavy bombers and nearly 2,000 lesser planes supported the Allied armies yesterday. Fighter bombers knocked out 150 railcars and 14 locomotives and cut rail lines in 13 places. Most damage was done in the Saar area opposite the Third Army.

Hits were made on 60 fortified buildings in front of the U. S. Ninth Army, which is drawn up to eight miles of the Roer river just north of the First Army front. Seven tanks and five German planes were destroyed.

DeGaulle and Stalin Sign Alliance Pact

guard Europe against future aggression.

The treaty was signed in the Kremlin at 4:40 a. m. yesterday, following an all-night session which began with a formal banquet at which the French and Russian were joined by British and United States diplomatic and military representatives.

BUSINESS INDEX IN DISTRICT SOARING

Pittsburgh, Dec. 11.—(P)—Business district in the Pittsburgh district, which slumped in September and October, recovered in November and reached a new high early in December, the bureau of business research of the University of Pittsburgh said today.

The bureau's business index for November stood at 174.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average. Electric power and rail and river shipments showed increases.

Dollar sales of Pittsburgh department stores last week were the highest on record for any comparable week and ran 15 per cent ahead of the corresponding week in 1943. The bureau said price advances likely accounted for most of the increases.

SHOT THEM OUT

Immediately after Pearl Harbor, many navigational aids and light-houses on the west coast were darkened by the Coast Guard. Some lights, in Alaska, were so difficult to reach that they had to be extinguished by gunfire from Coast Guard vessels.
